Liquids of any sort are generally not a good idea. If a bottle of laundry detergent leaks it will be leaking onto YOUR items, and if you packed this box we are not responsible for the damage that can occur. We don't want this to happen. If you must take liquids during your move clearly mark the box that liquids are packed within, pack each bottle upright, and have arrows pointing up on the sides of the box, mark the top as such too. This will help eliminate spills BUT THE BOTTLES MAY STILL LEAK.

If you are not sure about packing a specific item give us a call and we will give you our best advice.
